

Bio:

Frederik la Cour, Digital Design student at Aarhus University, Sound & Media Artist. Attended the course on Aesthetic Programming, where he learned how to perceive code as a material for critical reflection on conceptual matters. Coupling his appreciation for aesthetic programming with his passion for audio-design and electronic music, has installed a new perception on sound experimentation.